

Fall 2023 Comps Questions

Question 1.

Information professionals are increasingly adopting a range of new roles in serving organizations, communities, and individual users. For an information setting of your choice, provide three examples of how information professionals are moving beyond their traditional roles to meet the information needs of their stakeholders. Your discussion must articulate the benefits and impacts of these new roles.

Question 2.

The ways that people access information have changed in the past decade. Describe three characteristics of user information access in an information setting of your choice. Discuss how these characteristics have influenced the ways information professionals manage their collections and provide services.